There Is Just one Combination that causes people to choose one piece of Furniture in preference to another: Quality of material and workmanship-correct design and right price.

Possessing all these a piece may be considered successful-lacking either, it fails. The markets of the country are open to us and before a line goes on our floors it has passed through a process of elimination much more thorough than you could possibly give it. It only remains for you to select designs which satisfy your individual taste. You may safely assume that the quality is everything possible to obtain for the price. Hoyt Furniture Co.
